

THE FUND IS GROWING.

Some Aggregating $15,976.07

Contributed to Win the West.

Democrats Everywhere Invited to Aid in the Educational Campaign.

Your Effort Will Be Productive of Good Results. Write Chairman Harberty.

Joseph Pulitzer, "The World" $10,000.00
 C. B. Taylor, Boston "Globe" 1,000.00
 W. M. Singler, Philadelphia "Record" 1,000.00
 W. C. Whitney, "The World" 1,000.00
 James Smith, Jr., Newark, N. J. 1,000.00

HOW THE FUND STANDS NOW.
 Grand Total Acknowledged in "The World" $14,609.63
 Total Received Yesterday up to 8 P. M. by "The World" 1,366.45
 Grand Total $15,976.07

FOR THE WESTERN DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN FUND.

I contribute

Name

Address

Date

Make checks and money-orders payable to the Western Democratic Campaign Fund. Address all communications to the Western Campaign Fund, box 2,554 New York City.

All subscriptions will be acknowledged in the Morning WORLD.

The World asks your subscription to the Western Democratic Campaign Fund. Its purpose is to make sure the election of Cleveland and Stevenson by waging a vigorous educational campaign in those Western states which have gone Republican in national elections hitherto, but now give the strongest indications of a tendency towards Democracy and tariff reform. Chief among these states are Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. Each gave an overwhelming majority against the Republican policy of executive protection in 1890.

Are you willing to help? If so, send in your subscription for whatever amount you feel able to give, from 10 cents to $10,000. This will be both a national and a popular fund. The larger the number of subscriptions, regardless of their size, the greater will be the moral effect. The money raised will be expended by a committee of leading Western Democrats. It will be used solely for legitimate campaign expenses, the chief of which being to make certain that every citizen of these doubtful states shall read and hear the truth—a great educational work, in brief, in a great educational campaign.

Do you as a Democrat or tariff reformer approve the idea? Will you help? If so, send a check, a registered letter, a money-order or cash to the address given above. Also if convenient fill up the blank order that every citizen of these doubtful states shall read and hear the truth—a great educational work, in brief, in a great educational campaign.

The plan has been formally approved by Chairman Harberty as follows:

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE, 100 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK, N. Y.

The fund for the Western Democratic Campaign is a national fund, and the contributions to it should be made in the most liberal and generous manner. The fund is for the purpose of waging a vigorous educational campaign in those Western states which have gone Republican in national elections hitherto, but now give the strongest indications of a tendency towards Democracy and tariff reform.

I believe there are tens of thousands of Democrats who have not been in the habit of contributing to the National Campaign Fund for want of opportunity. The Democratic National Committee has been and is likely to be unable to reach them, and they themselves have not been able to avail themselves of the means of giving to the fund which is proposed to raise for the expenses of the campaign in the West.

The contributions to the campaign fund of the Democratic National Committee for the expenses of the general campaign throughout the country will doubtless be made in the most liberal and generous manner. The fund is for the purpose of waging a vigorous educational campaign in those Western states which have gone Republican in national elections hitherto, but now give the strongest indications of a tendency towards Democracy and tariff reform.

I am sure that your effort, supplemented as you expect it to be by that of very many other Democratic newspapers, will be productive of good results. I look for the movement to be one of the most successful in the Democratic party will have in the present campaign. It will still further emphasize the declaration made by "The World" that the present President must be a Democrat. Yours respectfully, WILLIAM F. HARBERTY.

Bogus Policemen to Be Tried for Extortion.

The three men, Richmond O'Neill and McWeeny, charged by Capt. Gallagher, of the Twenty-second street station, with extorting $30 for "protection" from Saloon-keeper Crawford, of 197 Third avenue, by representing themselves as ward officers, were arrested yesterday morning. Justice Tulliver held them in custody until they could be taken to court.

Taking a Fool's Advice.

Brown (advising his friend, Jones, who had just been told that he was a fool, to take a fool's advice and do as Jones—will, Brown, I will.

One Unseen Without Tother.

Mrs. Bangs—Marie, I wish you would take my diamond ring to a jeweler's and have it reset. I don't like it any more.

His Revenge.

Strait—You remember the line, "Oh, that I could write a book?"

TROOPS MOVE

(Continued from First Page.)

Chaplain, Rev. Frederick Terry, Inspector of Rifle Practice, John Macaulay. The captains of the various companies are: Company A, Edward C. Smith; Company B, Charles L. Burns; Company C, Charles L. Taylor; Company D, James A. Rank; Company E, Frank Roosevelt; Company F, William H. Murphy; Company G, William H. Kirby; Company H, Washington Conner; Company I, J. Nelson Jordan.

The Hurling Twenty-second. At the Twenty-second Regiment Armory at Sixty-seventh street and Ninth avenue, there was the same bustle and excitement this morning. Gen. Porter's order calling out the regiment was not received by Lieut.-Col. King, who spent the night at the armory, until nearly 5 o'clock this morning. At that hour more than 200 men were under arms, and were waiting marching orders.

As long as there is any prospect of a disturbance in this vicinity, either at the Grand Central depot or in the railroad yards at Jersey City, it will probably remain here as a home guard.

Col. Daniel Appleton is not in town, but is spending his vacation in the Adirondacks. Word has been sent to him of Gen. Porter's orders, and it is expected that he will return to the city at once and take command at headquarters.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

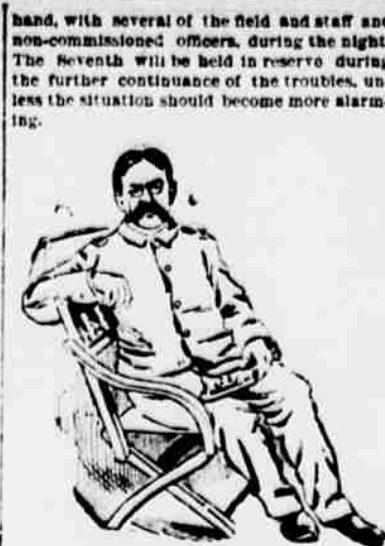

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

ADJ.-GEN. J. H. PORTER.

As long as there is any prospect of a disturbance in this vicinity, either at the Grand Central depot or in the railroad yards at Jersey City, it will probably remain here as a home guard.

Col. Daniel Appleton is not in town, but is spending his vacation in the Adirondacks. Word has been sent to him of Gen. Porter's orders, and it is expected that he will return to the city at once and take command at headquarters.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

There were only three private and a non-commissioned officer at the Seventy-first Regiment's Armory in the old skating rink at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue, when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. One of the privates said that the 600 men constituting the regiment had all been notified to be ready to start for Buffalo at any moment. The prospect of an out-of-town trip seemed to cause the little representatives of the regiment little interest, and they declared that they hoped it called out, that they would have no time to do.

Hand, with several of the field and staff and non-commissioned officers, during the night. The Seventh will be held in reserve during the further continuance of the troubles, unless the situation should become more alarming.

Col. Austen's staff consisted of Adj. Clayton, Quartermaster Werner, Surgeon Cochran and Inspector of Rifle Practice Babcock.

The scene in and around the armory was one of considerable excitement. There seemed to be a diversity of opinion among the men as to the importance of the trip they were ordered to take. Some seemed to think that it was in the nature of a picnic, while others looked upon it more seriously. There were many sweethearts and wives in hand to bid the boys good-by, and when the regiment was ordered to fall in at 10.30 o'clock there was many a surreptitious tear dashed away, and they were not all in the eyes of the women either.

It was 10.45 when the command "Forward" was given, and the regiment moved out of the armory, cheered by a crowd of two thousand people who had gathered in Flatbush avenue.

The men were in light marching order with knapsacks, haversacks, canteens, knapsacks and blankets. Each man had thirty rounds of ammunition in his cartridge box and a day's ration in his haversack.

The line of march from the armory, corner of Flatbush avenue and Hanson place, was as follows: Flatbush avenue to Joralemon street, to Clinton street, to Atlantic avenue, to South Ferry, where the regiment boarded the ferry-boat Union for Weehawken at 11.30.

All along the line of march the soldiers were cheered by the people who lined the curbs.

At Weehawken the regiment boarded a special train on the West shore railroad, and moved away towards Buffalo shortly before 1 o'clock.

Living the excitement of preparation for the start at the Thirtieth Regiment Armory, the young men rushed in and offered themselves as recruits.

They were T. R. Kittredge, of 145 Mason street, and John Morton, of 714 Gates avenue, and each was anxious to enlist for five years.

Both are of good families. They were put through a hurried examination and then sworn into the service. Then they were assigned to companies.

The whole job took less than twenty minutes, and the new soldiers departed with the regiment for the scene of trouble.

Sixty-ninth Under Arms. There was a good deal of life visible at the sixty-ninth Regiment Armory, in Tompkins Market, this morning, and was quite evident that the orders received from Adj. Gen. Porter, for the regiment to hold itself in readiness, were being strictly carried out.

The order did not reach Col. Cavanaugh at his home until late last night, and he lost no time in communicating with his staff and men. By midnight at least 300 men were at the armory, in obedience to the orders.

Side Col. Cavanaugh and Adj. Murphy, and they spent the night scattered on benches and chairs, ready to be on hand at a moment's notice.

There are between eight and nine hundred men in the regiment, which comprises ten companies. Adjutant Murphy said this morning that within five hours after a call was issued, between seven and eight hundred men would be ready to start for Buffalo.

The men believe that they will not be called upon to do active duty there, however.

The roster of the sixty-ninth is as follows: Col. James Cavanaugh, Lieut.-Col. Edward Moran, Major Edward Moran, Quartermaster James J. Ward, Commissary Robert E. Ford, Surgeon William O'Shea, Assistant Surgeon George W. Collins, Chaplain George W. Collins.